

Feels like a burden to write my first piece of write up(blog or whatever this is). I was very motivated to write 2 days ago but I didn't and now its become meh...

Still I think I should write it. Gotta start somewhere(yes this advice is a cliché and a very very sucky one and it never resonates with me).

So what is this about?(this website, what I would do here(hopefully! if I get out of bed with enough motivation) and all that yk)

I think it's just a personal space for me to try and express thoughts and ideas(if I can actually articulate a little better than a 9 yr old) and sometimes random arbitrary stposting and just yapping about anything or everything.

If anyone's actually going to read it, I'd like to say(shout until I die) this:

Everything you will read here are and will be my personal opinions/thoughts, don't take any of it with any sincerity whatsoever(please don't think of me as a sane, stable adult because I am not).

They will just be jokes(almost never funny ones!!) and I would be putting up some act with a mask on(I don't have a real personality).

Some things that I like(a.k.a hobbies/interests):

- travel - I always thought about solo traveling and loved the concept of it but never did it until recently.

And surprisingly, for now, I don't hate it and I haven't died of panic, scare or overwhelm so that's a plus I guess!

- Music - I think I should eventually start putting up the music I like here. I enjoy all kinds of songs, genre, music(in general). I don't have a preference or taste, it totally depends on my mood and sometimes the weather.

P.s - I very sincerely think that people who have a favorite genre in music are very successful career driven people who just also happen to be soul less psychopaths.

Books - I don't have the motivation right now to explain how or why I like books(that is on the precondition that my mind gets calm and stable enough to read 2 sentences before changing context or forgetting that it was reading in the first place and many more such delicacies it comes up with WHEN I AM TRYING TO READ A FREAKIN' BOOK). Maybe later!

Ohh btw, since we are at the subject of reading. A tip I recently discovered is to read it out loud(preferably to someone else). This works with fiction books(that's what I have tested this tip on for now).

I was reading to a girl with a beautiful voice and laugh good enough to put me to sleep forever, when I discovered this tip. Yeah you can be jealous if you're a guy reading this. And why are you even reading this as a guy(are you gay? don't be gay please. Not it 2026, GAWD!!)

Food - YES I AM FOODIE(I should be publicly executed for saying this, I am so so so sorry!).

But I do like spaghetti(red sauce), Pasta, some good English black tea. Moka coffee(black with sugar). I enjoy other cuisines as well, I just can't remember ATP.
